```
>>> import math_tools
>>> def main():
...     # Ask the user for two numbers
...     num1 = float(input("Enter the first number: "))
...     num2 = float(input("Enter the second number: "))
...     # Ask for the operation
...     operation = input("Enter the operation (add, subtract, multiply, divide): ").lower()
...     # Perform the calculation based on the user's choice
...     if operation == 'add':
...         result = math_tools.add(num1, num2)
...     elif operation == 'subtract':
...         result = math_tools.subtract(num1, num2)
...     elif operation == 'multiply':
...         result = math_tools.multiply(num1, num2)
...     elif operation == 'divide':
...         result = math_tools.divide(num1, num2)
...     else:
...         result = "Invalid operation. Please choose add, subtract, multiply, or divide."
...     # Display the result
...     print(f"Result: {result}")
... # Run the calculator
...
>>> if __name__ == "__main__":
...     main()
...
Enter the first number: 10
Enter the second number: 25
Enter the operation (add, subtract, multiply, divide): add
Result: 35.0
>>>
```